

Co-Hosted NRCCE-RPSEA Forum
“Unconventional Plays & Research Needs for Appalachian Basin Small Producers”
NRCCE Building, WVU, Morgantown, WV
February 15, 2007

Schedule

- 09:00 - 09:30 Registration and Continental Breakfast
- 09:30 - 10:00 Overview of the RPSEA Program
- Michael Ming, Research Partnership to Secure Energy for America
- 10:00 - 10:30 NETL’s Role in the new R&D Arena
- Brad Tomer, National Energy Technology Laboratory
- 10:30 - 11:00 Coffee break
- 11:00 - 11:30 Overview of the Small Producer Program
- Robert Lee, New Mexico Tech
- 11:30 - 12:00 Overview of the On-Shore Unconventional Program
- Robert Siegfried, Gas Technology Institute
- 12:00 - 01:00 Lunch
- 01:00 - 01:30 Developing an Efficient Data Delivery System for Tight Gas Plays
- Mary Behling, West Virginia Geological Survey
- 01:30 - 02:00 Geology and Resource Assessment of Coal Bed Methane Plays,
Appalachian Basin - Robert Milici, US Geological Survey
- 02:00 - 02:30 CO₂ Sequestration and Enhanced CBM Production
- Richard Winschel, Consol Energy
- 02:30 - 03:00 Coffee Break
- 03:00 - 03:30 Needs of Small Producers in Developing Unconventional Resources
- Shahab Mohaghegh, West Virginia University
- 03:30 - 04:00 Emerging Shale Plays in the Appalachian Basin
- Bill Zagorski, Great Lakes Partners, LLC
- 04:00 - 04:30 Summary of Research Needs Identified in Q&A Sessions